

Yaron Levi (Panelist)

Senior Manager at Cerner Corporation

Bio

Yaron Levi currently leads three teams at Cerner: Security Architecture, Vulnerability and Threat Management and Application Security. His duties are centered around building a world class security practice that will meet our business needs evolution. He also serves as a Lead Architect with the Cloud Security Alliance, a non-profit organization that develops the standards and best practice for cloud security.

Prior to Cerner, Yaron served as an Information Security Officer at Intuit, Security Architect at eBay and Director of Cloud Strategy for ANX a managed security services company. Yaron's professional background is pretty diverse and he spent most of my career bridging between the technology and the business side of things.
